Dear Mr. Turner.

Thank you for your email below.

I will review the attachment tomorrow.

For clarification I have not ignored anything. I responded to your inquiry because I believe that based upon the information that I have received to date you have no legal authority to request that my firm undertake any efforts in connection with the delivery of documents under the current circumstances.

As indicated I will review the court order and if necessary consider whether we need to undertake any additional action or maintain our current position.

Regards,

Mwu

Mr. Ullman-

I have no idea whether this will impact your decision whether to ignore the Power of Attorney, but enclosed is the Court Order entered today in Miami-Dade County recognizing the validity and enforceability of the irrevocable Power of Attorney. I provide this to make sure you understand that TradePAY's "alleged" counsel challenged the validity and the Court rejected the challenge. I say "alleged" only because our position was that TradePAY had no authority to hire counsel.

Let me know if you have questions.
